Things you need to know about In Daeira

The band was founded in 2018 in Freiburg, Germany by Jonas Reinmuth (g/v), Daniel Kirn (d) and Arthur Schlichting (g/v), when a series of jam sessions grew into a regular project. Lucas Pinti joined the band in 2019 on bass

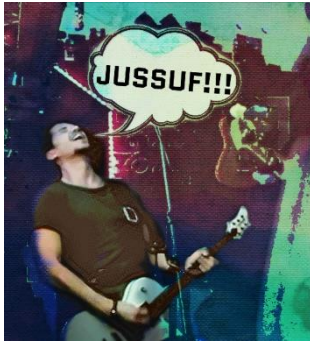

The band's name refers to the Greek divinity Daeira, also known as Demeter, the goddess of fertility

Although being rooted in rock music, the band members draw inspiration from a broad spectrum of musical styles reaching from classical over EDM to hip-hop. The common ground in our own compositions lies somewhere between funk, progressive/post rock and grunge. Check out the bands shared playlist here: In Daeira Mixtape Spotify

There is no fixed frontman in the band. Lead vocals are shared between Jones and Arthur depending on the song. Half of the current repertoire is instrumental, where the guitars take the lead parts

Musical ideas are mainly drawn from jamming. Extended improvised sets are funnelled into final song structures through the “day-after test” - a riff is pursued further only if it still rocks when listened back to the next day, since the first perception might be somewhat obscured through momentary enthusiasm during jamming

The recording session for the self-titled debut album took place in April 2021. It was important to us to capture the live energy and dynamics of the songs, so we recorded most of the material live playing in one room, except for vocals and some of the more challenging guitar parts.

10 songs were recorded in 14 days and nights, fuelled only by the band's vision and 190 l beer. Guess the band's favourite brand...

The album was mixed and mastered at Iguana Studios by Christoph Brandes, known for some noteworthy metal productions like Necrophagist). For review and fine tuning, the whole band attended to multiple mixing sessions to fuse their ideas and to finalise the mix

The hedgehog on the album cover is real, he was living in a local wild animal shelter at that time. We bribed him with cat food and marmalade

The album release gig/party took place in on April 14th, 2022 at Cafe Atlantik in Freiburg. Great success!
